The production can easily be carried to 200,000,000 of bricks annually. These great results are accomplished by the use of labor-saving machinery and furnaces continuously working, on Hoffmann's system, 33 of which are in use. Over one and one-third million hundred-weight of different kinds of brown coal and of coke are consumed yearly.

The receipts, expenditures, and profits are no less remarkable than the production, and are as follows:—
